The website is set up with 5 main sections: (1) Learn, (2) Apply, (3) What's New, (4) Papers, Talks, Blogs, and (5) Resources and Tools.

Major categories within each section are also described in the infographic above, but here are a few more tips.

If you are new to RE-AIM or to the site, we recommend starting with the Learn section. In this section you can also find new PowerPoint slide sets on PRISM and RE-AIM that we encourage you to use.

If you are familiar with RE-AIM but want to consider how to apply it to a specific project, we recommend starting with the Apply section.

In terms of resources, check out the video overview of our offerings in the Resources section, that highlights specific, frequently requested tools, including grant-writing resources and an interactive tool for mapping out the RE-AIM dimensions of a new project.

For a tour of the website's offerings, check out our 2-minute video by Dr. Russ Glasgow on this page. For additional guidance on resources, you may want to watch the 2-minute video by Dr.

Samantha Harden on the Resources page. We also recommend checking the FAQ section within Learn, where we provide links to frequently requested tools for different needs. If you want to know more about us or send us a request, you may want to check out the FAQs in the 'Learn' section of the website, or you can scroll to the bottom of the page for weblinks on the team and ways to contact us.
